Ambassador Victor Miracle

I'm Ambassador Mrs. Victor C. Miracle, from Imo State. I am married with kids, a humanitarian activist, the executive director of Davies Heart and Hope for Girl Child Foundation which is a registered organization. I am also Founder at the Praying Woman International. I am also a counselor.

The girl child is often very vulnerable in the society we find ourselves in.

Perhaps because she is wrongly viewed as second class. Many a family would rather celebrate the birth of the boy child than that of the girl.

From Childhood, the girl child is trained to believe that she is inferior to the boy. She is made to do all the domestic chores. She takes care of her siblings and if her family is financially handicapped, she is forced to sacrifice her education so that her brothers can go to school.

The girl child is often abused and violated and when dares to speak out, she is shunned and made to believe that she brought it upon herself. Many a girl child is in need of pure unadulterated love and friendship. She needs someone to understand her struggles and fears. She needs mentors and role models which unfortunately are too difficult to find these days.

It is as a result of these observations and the passion they aroused in me that the Davies Heart and Hope for Girl Child Foundation was birthed.

We started as Singles and Relationship matters (SARM) some years ago.

At the Davies Heart and Hope for Girl Child Foundation, we are basically into rehabilitating the girl child. How do we do this?

We have various programs such as educational talks, health talks and outreaches, personal and family counseling, mentorship and giving of scholarship for educational pursuits, vocational training and subsequently, grants for business development.

We have a team of highly trained and professional counsellors, business founders and executives and people who have survived odds to be shining examples in the society who work with us to ensure that the girl child becomes all that God intended that she be.

Many a girl child is in need of pure unadulterated love and friendship.

However, we are still quite far away from the goal and so we still need credible individuals to partner with us in this Noble assignment. Will you?

Question:

What Is the Origin of the Easter Egg?

ANSWER:

Exchanging Easter eggs with one another is a custom that goes back thousands of years. Long before its association with Easter, the egg was a symbol of rebirth. Many ancient cultures used the egg to symbolize both rebirth and the universe. Ancient peoples such as the Persians, the Egyptians, the Chinese, the Gauls, and the Romans all used the egg in their springtime celebrations. Thus the origin of the Easter egg predates the origin of Christianity.

However, when Christianity spread to the lands of these ancient cultures, the exchanging of colored eggs became incorporated in the memorial celebration of Jesus' resurrection, the holy day that came to be known as Easter. These Easter eggs were colored and given as tokens to remind Christians of the tomb and Jesus' triumphant victory over death.

Happy Easter Everyone.

Christ has Risen.

Power of Resurrection.

Story

Okoro Blessing Nkiruka - Nigerian

Relationship Expert storyteller
Brand Influencer,
Founder of Break
or Makeup Concept
Leading relationship blog
BOM @break_or_makeup.

She had before now, shared a touching story of how she thought marriage was happiness and begged her husband to take her back even after she was domestically abused. The Instagram blogger who further added that she suffered depression, wrote;

Just because you asked I will share.

It all began few years ago, in my times of pain and depression, I desperately needed someone to talk to, I had no friends, and was too ashamed to talk to family because of fear of judgment.

I carried a burden as a young girl with no one to help.

I went from church to church, prayer house to prayer house but no solution, nobody was listening all they said was pray pray , but I have been praying. let me express myself .

Some twisted the Bible upside down .

They asked me to go back and beg the man who abused me, domestically violated me and more, I had to go because I wanted to respect the Bible, but he rubbished me .

I knelt down in the stresss of PH, water lines just by everyday super market begging a man to love me and he told me over his dead body, "Nkiru even if my father wakes up from the grave I will never ever again."

I wept on the road as people watched me when he zoomed off . I gathered my bundle of shame and went into depression. He said I will amount to nothing but a prostitute if I leave his house. I begged this man to take me back because I was so scared to face life, but he refused.

I wanted to die.

Little did I know that it was just a process, a fortification to greatness.

Little did I know that some day I will use the story to inspire and teach other women how to be strong .

Then I took on my journey, it was not easy, but I kept pushing.

Came into social media, saw it was an open ground, a free place , then I decided to write my story, I penned everything down and felt better, relieved, that was when the dream of @break_or_makeup began.

I decided to tell stories, like a joke people began to share too, like a joke the world began to share

And that was it.

Tips to increase you're chances of getting a job.

By Blessing CEO - Motivation True Life Story.

Self-confidence is extremely important in almost every aspect of our lives, yet so many people struggle to find it. The good news is that, it can be built.

Let Okoro Blessing Nkiruka's story inspire /motivate you.

A whole lot of people hate me because they mistake my confidence for pride.

I walk with so much guts like I own the world and when they see me they be like who the fuck does she think she is ...

Guess what?

They always say it behind my back, none of them have been confident enough to tell me to me face. You know why? I am confident about their imagination, I am what they want to be.

Baby girl walk with confidence, raise your head so high and look people straight in the eyes and speak. That is your girl power

Let me tell you another story....

After I had an extra year in school and my mates had gone for NYSC, I rewrote my exams and waited for the next batch. I was frustrated and depressed because I was going through divorce and battle of child custody, I needed to go out and keep my mind busy but I had nobody or contact.

So that morning I took one of the suit my ex bought me on my 20th and wore it. I had no transport fair but I was determined to get a job. Since I was still an undergraduate I knew I might not get the best of jobs but I told myself I will get the best of my kind.

So I walked from Ggoldie to Transcorp hotels in Calabar, if u saw me that early morning walking with so much confidence you will think I was walking to pick up my car.

I trekked that morning with my suit and beautiful makeup, until I got to Transcorp hotels. When I got to the gate my heart started beating, but I held myself and walked into the gate, the gate man stopped me and asked if I had an appointment and I said yes, with the manager

He greeted me. I walked to the reception boldly and sat down.

I swear to God I was scared because I did not know anybody or my right to my left. I was just seated looking and pretending to make calls. I saw a newspaper so I quickly buried my face in it, but I was looking around until after 40min I saw one man coming down from the staircase. I walked up to him straight up and exchanged pleasantries with him.

Baby girl walk with confidence, raise your head so high and look people straight in the eyes and speak.

Sir, please I want to talk to you about something, he said go ahead and I said can we sit, yes that is how confident I am, he said tell me here.

I started to speak, "Sir please I need a job, I beg you in the name of God I don't want to abuse my body when I can work with my hands to survive, please help me."

The man looked at me, looked at me again and smiled. He said, "I love your confidence, and to add you have a good diction. Follow me."

He took me straight to the MD and said give her a job. I did not know that I just spoke to one of the biggest share holders in Transcorp.

And that was it, I never saw him again in my life. That was my first breakthrough to exposure. My confidence gave everything.

Jidekaiji BCEO. You deserve the crown.
Happy 30th Birthday
Keep soaring higher.

Mercy Chinwo is a top Nigerian singer and winner of the Pepsi and Etisalat sponsored Nigerian Idol Season 2.

Mercy Nnenda Chinwo rose to fame in 2012 after emerging as the winner of the Nigerian Idol Season 2 and since then has been very active in the Nigerian entertainment world.

'Excess Love' by Mercy Chinwo is probably one of the most popular gospel songs in 2018 and it's a song every lover of gospel vibes enjoys.

Mercy Nnenda Chinwo is probably one of the best gospel artists in Nigeria as she has released a good number of unique and amazing gospel vibes. If you're interested in knowing about Mercy Chinwo's biography, then we bet you'd be amazed at the end of this article.

'She lost her father at a very tender age and according to an interview with theneighbourhoodonline.com, it also triggered to her music career. She took up her music career in 2007 after the death of father and had to take care of her siblings.

Mercy Chinwo's Early Life and Background

Born and bred in Port Harcourt City, Mercy Chinwo's passion for music started when she was very young. She was a member of the children's choir and later proceeded to the adult choir section of her church where she launched her music career. She is the first daughter of her father and comes from a polygamous family.

Mercy Chinwo's Music and Acting Career

Mercy Chinwo is a multi-talented entertainer and has been featured in a good number of movies. According to wikipedia, she started acting a year after emerging as the Nigerian Idol Season 2 winner, probably in 2013. She was first featured in Yvonne Nelson multi-award winning movie, 'Heart of Gold' alongside Nollywood stars like Omawumi, Francis Odega, Majid Michel and Nigerian rapper, Ice Prince

She professionally started her music career after the death of father because of her role in her family. She had to take care of her siblings as the first daughter and the task wasn't easy on her. She however started music in her early age in the children's choir section of her church and proceeded to the adult section of the chorister's department.

Mercy Chinwo took her career further by working with gospel artists like Preye Odede, Joe Praize, Chris Morgan and Sammie Okposo.

Since then I have worked with thousands of amazing entrepreneurs and businesses to transform their Instagram accounts into business assets that consistently bring in money, month after month, and day after day.

Why I cried when I saw Linda Ikeji

Let me tell you a little story. You all know the part that I have been trying to get Linda to come but she already told me that she was traveling. So in my mind I kinda lost hope. When she commented she was coming I was excited but then I was still not sure. So you can imagine my shock when I saw her, it felt so good. And yes I am a big baby and I cried one thing you don't know too was a few days to the event, one "sponsor" pulled out because I questioned their terms which wasn't favorable to MSMEs funny thing is I posted about them gave them advice which they immediately implemented. I felt used but hey! So you can imagine my happiness seeing Linda. She kept to her words. She bought.

This fair has taught me WE ARE ENOUGH! Yes is ok to work the extra mile but never forget we are enough. The disappointments I have received hosting this fair, hmm ... well they have become a learning curve.
