My Name is Gaius Chibueze, and I'm also known as Bitcoin Chief.

I am Africa's Pioneer Investor In Bitcoin, a Best Selling Author, Bitcoin, Real Estate and Internet Mogul.

I am A serial entrepreneur who is passionate about maximizing the enormous potentials of the internet and to this effect, I Founded the ABiT Mobile Applications Limited, a global Tech Company which comprises of 3 Sister companies:

- 1. The ABiT App Platform for (Learning, Buying and Selling Cryptocurrencies)
- 2. The ABiT Crowd funded Real Estate: A 100% Decentralized Crowdfunded Real Estate company.

3. The ABiT discount shoppers:

This is a Decentralized E-Commerce Platform, where people can buy or sell any regular household at big discounts upto 30-50% Discount.

I am keen on helping people understand the enormous potentials of the internet and how they can sell anything to anyone using the power of the new media.

I also own a Media company called Voice Of The East, where we promote the Igbo culture, language and its wonderful people.

On what inspired me, I looked around the situation I was born into, I was born into a low income family where my dad was earning just 20,000 naira a month, as a staff of a Local Government Council, My mother died when I was very young, the people around me were all struggling and I told myself that was not the kind of life I want for myself. My elder brother was like my biggest motivation because he was also struggling.

In 2010, I came back from Cross River State where I had just finished from the College of Education to live with him, and while I was living with him and his fiance in a One room apartment, I left him in that one room apartment. And I have grown from the stage of squatting with my brother to owning different properties in different parts of Nigeria and living comfortably abroad. So, I can say the situation I was born into was what motivated me and I have always wanted to why I work so hard.

I have been a persistent person, people that Facebook: Gaius Chibueze know me from time will know that I am very Twitter: @gaiuschibueze persistent and consistent.

several countries with the fastest growing global economies, the Sub-Saharan African region is a vast business ecosystem, with gems hidden under rough terrains. For the creative entrepreneurs I had the pleasure of interviewing, the secret lies in the digging. Here are their stories.

As the founder of iROKO Partners, and iROKOTv, the leading online streaming platform in Africa, Jason Njoku's principle is simple. "I am trying to make people happy," he says. Njoku admits that starting on challenges. "I make more mistakes than I make good choices. My only saving grace is that the choices that I make are better and more significant." Now a venture capitalist, his current obsession is funding local "I want to help young entrepreneurs. entrepreneurs build the next iROKOTV", he says.

The founder of IRIS International Consulting, social entrepreneur Dr. Maavi Norman bridges the gap by encouraging foreign investment in Africa, while supporting "deep local impact." Through his affiliation as a mentor with the White House Young African Leaders Initiative, Norman has helped guide a cohort of like-minded entrepreneurs in Africa. For him, it all comes down to this: "Stay laser-focused on solutions but evaluate a myriad of ideas for achieving them. Be open to readjusting, recalibrating and re-launching."

How does a person turn a passion into a lucrative business? By becoming purposeful about it. For Nkechi Ngonadi, CEO of NHN Couture, it comes down to her inspiration: "Proverbs 22:29, The Almighty God and His Word," she says. In three years, NHN designs have been featured on prominent runways, and worn by celebrities across the African continent, and from the US to the Middle East. "Don't focus on the immediate need only. Set your eyes on the big picture," she says. What is her best advice? "Integrity, people follow if they trust." This trust has led to Ngonadi having almost 400,000 active followers as of today, (and counting) on Instagram alone.

And She is organizing Meet and greet Women retreat in Dubai. (Pray, Slay and Play) Keep winning ma.

Parents, How is the holidays going? My house is vibrating. And the holidays just started. Teachers I hail una oo. God bless the teachers.

Positive development.

I gave my daughter assignment to make sure she try and be teaching her brother how to speak Igbo Language our native dialect #Igbolauguage

Read conversation between them.

My 11 year old daughter and my 5+ year old son.

Daughter--- Kaima what is Achoromu esi indomie with Akwa.?

Son----I want to Cook indomie with Cloth.

Kid Entrepreneurs with Chizispace

Daughter---- No, With Egg not With Cloth.

Akwa is Egg

Akwa is Cloth.

See confusion.

Glad she was able to clarified the two.

What is The Fastest Way to Scale A Business?

Find something old, add a modern twist, and send it back out into the world. This is how Nwachinemelu Local Food Kitchen was born. Gozie Udemezue, a trained lawyer and human rights activist, turned her kitchen into a golden goose, proffering a modern day version of her grandmother's traditional foods. What drives her? "God is my main source of inspiration," she says. In less than two years, her frozen foods are being mailed across the country and ordered from around the globe.

She Launched her Life changing book and campaign Widowhood redefined. In the 3 States of the Nation Abuja, Lagos and Enugu.

About the book and the campaign.

Life sometimes throws unexpected curves that could faze even the strongest of people and if we had to choose the things that life directs at us, I am sure we would all pick the sweet experiences and avoid any unpleasantness. Sis. @goziem udemezue is a strong woman who has taken the lemons life threw at her when she lost her husband tragically, and processed them into lemonade; in turn, she's on a mission to tell women not to allow themselves to be defined by their challenges. She is indeed #widowedNotWithered and this additional feather to her cap has confirmed the fact that she is a woman of many parts. Today was the Lagos edition of her book presentation and it was an honor to be invited for this beautiful event. The keynote Speaker, Chairman of First Bank, Mrs. Ibukun Awosika's address largely challenged every woman to cultivate and give expression to the divinely deposited talents and abilities on the inside, which shouldn't die because a man comes into the picture. In other words, she emphasized the need for women to live their dreams and said that any man who tries to stifle his wife's innate abilities does himself more harm, because her powerlessness would affect their children as well. A woman who is not empowered to live her dreams, even if she is not widowed, would lack the capacity to take up the challenge of caring for the home, if for any reason the man is incapacitated, loses his job, or business goes downhill. Her book isn't for widows only - every woman and man- needs to read 'Widowhood Redefined! It will help you understand that you don't have to dwell on the mountain of tragedy of any sort - you can rise above it all and still fulfill purpose. Congrats again sis. for being God's arm extended to bring beauty from ashes, the oil of joy from a situation which came with lots of stigmatization for the women who are affected. Your hands will never go down. It was nice to re-connect with a lot of my social media friends. The #SM is a powerful connector if you know what you're doing.

I was live at the Lagos event and gave my own token support.

Jidekaiji Super Woman, keep winning!

Painful Exit, with regret and heartbroken, Enobong has died after a failed surgery! She had been fat shamed by friends to the point where she took her hard earned money to take out fat and inject it into her butt! The hospital is granvillemedlaser. As it stands the doctor still posted the video of the procedure after she had passed as a successful surgery! Abuja has been thrown into mourning. She really was a successful young woman. So so sad!!!! May her soul rest in peace!

Please leave people and their fat alone! Leave them! Fat people know they are fat just as thin people too! Stop telling them! Mind your business!

Please we all have to respect other people and how God has created them.

Body structure is different, we are all unique in our different body type.

Wear your confidence like a crown my Queens and Kings don't allow anybody talk you depression, lack of self confidence.

Unapologetically own your imperfection.. Be confidence about your present look.

Rest in peace Sleeping beauty.

There are several different signs that your body may be suffering from toxic overload. These signs are our body's way of telling us that we need to do a better job of regulating what we put into our bodies. It's also our body's way of signaling us that it may need help processing the toxins that are trapped in our bodies. If you're experiencing any of the following, you may be experiencing toxic overload and therefore need to detox.
